

Pitcher Eli Grba First Los Angeles Choice

Angels Lose on Shantz

See Further Details, Page 8A
BOSTON (UPI) — Pitcher Eli Grba was the first player picked by Los Angeles and pitcher Bobby Shantz by Washington today in an unprecedented baseball draft to stock the rosters of the American League's two newest teams.

The two new clubs each selected a total of 28 players costing $75,000 apiece. The total cost for both clubs was $42 million.

THE SELECTION of the players took two hours in the office of American League President Joe Cronin.

Shantz and Grba were both picked from the roster of the New York Yankees.

Some of the other outstanding players chosen by Los Angeles were Eddie Yost of Detroit, Ted Kluszewski of Chicago, Ken Aspromonte of Cleveland, Ned Garver of Kansas City, and Duke Maas of New York.

AMONG THOSE chosen by Washington were Dick Donovan of Chicago, Gene Wooding of Baltimore, Willie Tasby of Boston, Dale Long of New York, and Johnny Klippstein of Cleveland.

General Manager Fred Haney and Manager Bill Rigney made the selections for the Los Angeles club while General Manager Ed Doherty and Manager Mickey Vernon picked for Washington.

Los Angeles also got Bob Cerv of the Yankees.

Both teams wanted Cerv and Shantz.

Death Claims Gregory Ratoff, Thomas Tuesday

Death — which has decimated the ranks of entertainment world personalities with grim regularity this year — struck twice yesterday, claiming onetime Metropolitan Opera star John Charles Thomas and zany Hollywood producer-director-actor Gregory Ratoff.

Thomas, 60, but a veteran of radio and opera for nearly 50 years, died at his Apple Valley home Tuesday afternoon while his wife maintained a vain vigil.

Ratoff, 63, died at a private Swiss clinic where he had gone for special treatment.

THOMAS' DEATH was attributed to intestinal cancer. The baritone with the rich, deep voice had undergone cancer surgery in March, 1959, and for the past six months was bedridden.

His wife of 36 years, Dorothy, said he was in a coma for about the last 30 hours of his life.

Funeral services will be held Friday at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church.

For years Thomas was a star at New York's Metropolitan Opera Co. and also featured singer on the Bell Telephone Hour radio show.

THE COLORFUL RUSSIAN-born Ratoff struggled to the end against a leukemia-type illness described as a "grave bone marrow deficiency" that hospitalized him three months ago.

"I'm fighting still," Ratoff told United Press International last week from his bed at the famed clinic here on Professor Sven Moeschlin. "It's a tough fight but I still have hope. . . I hope to return to work sometime."

SHUTDOWN THREATENED

Translator TV Fund Drive Lags

Translator television contributions are falling far short of the amount necessary to operate for another year, with only one-third of the total now in, it was reported today by Mayor Frank Bogert, vice president and director of the non-profit corporation.

Directors will meet in the near future to discuss closing down the Translator, if donations do not increase during the next couple of weeks.

"Many citizens who depend on this non-profit TV have been 'intending' to send in their donations but 'just haven't gotten around to doing it' — and they may wait too long," Bogert said. "We now have a full time station, Channel 6, in addition to the network programs of Channels 2 and 4, so the television reception is better than ever before, and it would be a shame to close down the stations now for lack of $15 donations for another year," Bogert continued.

A final appeal for contributions is being sent to the 2,000 subscribers and users of Translators, together with notice of intention to close the station unless the necessary amount for expenses is received. A decision will be reached by the board after the response is determined.

McNamara Says Defense Post to Cost $3 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert Strange McNamara gave up a huge annual salary as president of Ford Motor Co. and will dispose of $1.5 million worth of stocks so he can become defense secretary in the Kennedy administration.

The cabinet post will pay him $25,000 a year for running a military establishment so big that its annual outlays for weapons, material and services are estimated at more than three times the combined buying volume of Ford, General Electric and U.S. Steel.

IN "SUBORDINATING personal considerations" to accept the appointment from President-elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday, the 44-year-old McNamara estimated the job would cost him $3 million in profits over the next three or four years.

That is how much he thought he would have realized from increases in value of the 24,250 shares of Ford stock he now owns, the 30,000 he has options to buy and the 100 shares of Scott Paper Co. he holds. He now must divest himself of the lot. He still will be a millionaire, of course.

McNAMARA, ELECTED Ford president only five weeks ago, said he is giving up his $400,000 annual income of salary and bonuses from the motor firm.

His case is similar to the situation which confronted General Motors President Charles E. Wilson when he became defense secretary in 1953. Wilson was forced by the Senate, under the conflict of interest laws, to divest himself of his huge General Motors holdings. It later was estimated that Wilson gave up something like $4 million to be defense secretary.

McNAMARA'S MOTHER said in Oakland, Calif., that she was not surprised her son had made a great financial sacrifice to accept the cabinet post.

Mrs. R. J. McNamara said, "He has done things like this all his life. For instance, when he was in graduate school at Harvard he tore up all the checks I sent him. I knew he was having a hard time getting along with the salary he was getting but he never cashed a check I sent him."

She added, "When there is something to be done, he never tests until it is done. He drives himself 24 hours a day."

WHEN HE TAKES over the staggering and unfamiliar duties of defense secretary in January, McNamara will have plenty of reason to "drive himself." He will be besieged immediately with crucial military problems.

Kennedy is firmly committed to several specific actions aimed at insuring a "defense second to none."

THESE ACTIONS, promised in the campaign for attention in January, range from overhauling the Defense Department's "creaking" machinery to enlarging and modernizing the ground forces to speeding up ballistic missile production.

How well McNamara will fare at the helm of the defense establishment remains to be seen. He served with distinction as a junior officer in supply and fiscal jobs in World War II and on this record was hired by Henry Ford II in 1945.

A meteoric rise followed. He was elected Ford president last month.

Woman Injured In Two Vehicle Crash at DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Alma Louise Young, 33, of 1105 Pendleton Way, Indio, received minor injuries when her car was struck at 9:25 a.m., Tuesday, in the intersection of Pierson Boulevard and Ocotillo Road here, the California Highway Patrol reported.

John Stephenson Taylor, 80, of Desert Hot Springs, told CHP officers he had made a boulevard stop at Ocotillo Road, and then drove slowly into the intersection looking for an office building. He did not see the other car until it was too late to stop.

Taylor was cited for failure to yield in the face of danger.

Goldberg Said Labor Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy has selected Arthur J. Goldberg, chief attorney of the United Steelworkers union, as his labor secretary despite opposition from some AFL-CIO craft unions.

Bomber Sets Two Records

EDWARDS AFB Calif. (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command B52G bomber today completed a 10,000-mile, nonstop flight to shatter two world records, the Air Force announced.

EQUIPMENT FUND of the Palm Springs Boys Club was made $846.47 richer Tuesday when Palm Springs Kiwanis Club president Thurman Arnold, left, presented a check in that amount—the net proceeds from the Navy Band Concert here—to Don Goudry, president of the Boys Club board, and Ray Lockwood, executive director of the Boys Club.

43 Items Listed On City Council Agenda Tonight

A total of 43 items have been scheduled for tonight's session of the City Council at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at City Hall.

Three hearings have been set for early on the agenda, including two requests for rezoning and one on a proposed ordinance to set standards for cooperative apartment buildings.

Under unfinished business, two ordinances will be up for passage, one establishing citations for failure to get business licenses instead of immediate arraignment, and another setting peace officers training and standards. The appeal of Maury and Lucille Pavny for a change of zone will be up again before the council, and an application for a scooter sales and rentals will be up for approval.

Truck Overtakes Near Salton Sea

INDIO — Robert Lee Boyd, 30, Montebello truck driver, received minor injuries at 10:30 p.m., Tuesday, when the tandem semi-rig he was driving ran off Highway 111 and overturned two and a half miles south of the Salton Sea. The California Highway Patrol reported major damage to the truck-tractor and its tandem trailers.

CHIEF COMMENDS POLICE OFFICERS

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann today commended Detective Cal Huslander and Patrolman Quincy Welch for their alertness which resulted in the Oct. 17 arrest of Richard Len Kent, 36, wanted as a suspect in numerous hotel burglaries.

The capture of the criminal cleared a total of 48 hotel room burglaries in Palm Springs, representing a total loss of $21,000, and cleared 78 cases in Las Vegas amounting to $39,000, Kettmann said.

THE CHIEF ALSO commended the cooperation of Ed Davidson, manager, and Dick Hill, assistant manager of Ocotillo Lodge, where the suspect was captured in the act of burglarizing the room.

"Both Huslander and Welch were off duty, but still watchful of their responsibilities to protect life and property. Such extra effort above and beyond the call of duty is the type of performance that makes for efficient police operation," said Kettmann.

WHEN THE SUBJECT was arrested he was driving an expensive convertible, rented at the rate of $400 a month plus 10 cents a mile, and was maintaining a Hollywood apartment for $500 a month. Kent appeared in Superior Court in Indio Nov. 15, where he was convicted and sentenced to the state prison on two counts of burglary, and at the expiration of the sentence the Federal Bureau of Investigation has placed a fugitive hold, charging fleeing the state of Florida to avoid prosecution.

French Fire Warning Shots To Stop Moslems

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — French gendarmes fired warning shots today over the heads of thousands of Moslems gathered near the Casbah shouting slogans of the rebel forces who have battled French troops for six years.

Girl Escapes Kidnapers Today

SULTAN, Wash. (UPI) — The daughter of a Sultan banker was abducted by two men today and held for $25,000 ransom, but she escaped in the kidnapers' automobile and returned home unharmed.

CHAMBER ELECTION

4 New Directors Named to Board

Desert Sun publisher Carl Schoos, attorney James Schlecht, banker Herb Samson and insurance agent Toby Curtis have been elected to the board of directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today.

A record total of 289 ballots were cast in the election which also saw Dr. William Elliott, Don Fry and Ed McCoubrey re-elected to director posts.

The seven men will join Francis Crocker, Norman Lofthus, William Smith, Joel Stone and Harold

Imperial Guard Revolts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today it has received a report from the U.S. ambassador in Ethiopia that "the imperial household guard has engineered a coup" against the government of Emperor Haile Selassie, 68.

The department said the reports were "unconfirmed" but U.S. officials said privately that the household guard is holding Crown Prince Asfa Wossen prisoner and demanding the establishment of a republic.

THE IMPERIAL household guard consists of about one battalion of specially trained elite troops who also dabble in palace politics at times.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the situation in Addis Ababa, as reported to the department this morning by Ambassador Arthur L. Richards, was "unclear at the moment" and he could say no more about it.

WHITE SAID the State Department has "received no reports of civil disorder."

Other officials said the struggle seemed to be between the palace guard and the rest of the army. White said there are no reports at present to indicate any danger to Americans in Ethiopia.

New Snow, Ice Storm Starts Toward Plains

By United Press International
A new snow and ice laden storm brewed in the highlands of New Mexico and Texas pushed northeastward early today into the Central Plains.

The new storm system dumped up to five inches of snow in the mountains before changing to travel-halting freezing rain in the flatlands of northern Texas and Kansas.

The storm followed the path of a blizzard that earlier roared out of the Southwest's weather cauldron to paralyze the East Coast with its worst wintry blast since 1957.

The old storm was over the Atlantic, today, but it left behind a toll of 268 dead in record-shattering snow and cold.

A United Press International count showed New York the hardest hit with 54 storm-blamed deaths, including 40 in New York City, New Jersey, 41 in Massachusetts, 34 in Pennsylvania, 26 in other states from Texas to Maine reported casualties.

NEWEST ADDITION to Palm Springs city fleet of vehicles is this street sweeper which was officially put into service yesterday after being "looked over" by city administrators. NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY HERE TO BE ON CBS

Dance-minded New Year's Eve revelers across the United States and Canada will be doing exactly the same thing many Palm Springs celebrants are doing — dancing to the music of the Eddy Howard Orchestra.

Final arrangements were completed today to beam the Howard band direct from the bandstand at El Mirador Hotel to 208 U.S. and 47 Canadian affiliates of the CBS radio network.

An anticipated 50 million people annually tune to the featured CBS New Year's Eve "Dance Party" which welcomes in the New Year in the nation's four time zones. Broadcast time for the "Dance Party" will be from 11:45-Midnight and will be carried via the Palm Springs affiliate, KCMJ.

Press Club In Holiday Safety Plea

Yule Season Worst For Traffic Deaths, Says Highway Patrol

"Let's keep Palm Springs different... let's make it a happy holiday, free of traffic deaths." That's the slogan reported this week from the Desert Press Club's committee on Holiday Traffic Safety, an annual project the club undertakes for the Palm Springs Safety Council.

ALL NEWSPAPER magazine and radio editors and reporters are cooperating in the annual campaign, which is spearheaded by the club's Professional Standards committee.

The committee's chairman, Phil Stone, today reported latest figures from the California Highway Patrol, with the Patrol's official prediction that the Christmas and New Year holidays this year will bring death to more persons than last year.

California's fatality figures last year showed 33 deaths the Christmas weekend, and 24 the New Year's weekend — a total 59 traffic deaths over the holiday period.

THIS YEAR'S PREDICTION is for 51 deaths in the Christmas weekend and 31 in the New Year's, a total 82.

Total Cost of Funeral was $4.85

You may now register for self or entire family under the Plan of Burial Insurance. Costs only a few cents a day. In time of need regardless of how little has been paid, the Plan pays the funeral bill. For example a complete funeral was paid for recently when only $4.85 had been paid in. Issued by an admitted legal reserve insurer. Good at the Palm Springs Funeral Chapel or at any funeral chapel in United States. For free information write Burial Plan, P. O. DNA Starts, Stops Functions

EDITORS NOTE: This is the third of four dispatches on the wonder molecule, DNA.)

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK, UP — The "queen bee" molecule of DNA is the source of the protein molecules which generate living things and govern them until the moment of death.

Proteins are "giant" complex molecules which must be as perfectly fitted to their tasks as keys to their locks. They are the substances of enzymes and hormones, and these in turn are the chemical starters, stoppers and regulators of the chemical reactions whose sum total is life.

EACH REACTION needs its own specialized protein or proteins. A protein molecule which helps to make or operate a hippopotamus does nothing for a tiger, and the protein molecules of wheat are useless in a man.

Proteins are made out of amino acids. Twenty of them have been positively identified chemically. Any given protein molecule has some of these 20 linked together in combinations which are unique to that molecule.

Body chemistry extracts these amino acids from proteins in foods and then uses them as raw materials in the making of the highly specialized proteins which it must have.

THE QUESTION IS, how in the world can the DNA molecule contain the designs for all these protein molecules and at the same time get the designs executed as needed? The present scientific answer is largely theoretical. But it is bolstered with enough facts to be highly plausible.

Let's get back to the individual cell. It has a nucleus which has long been recognized as its directing center. The remainder is the cytoplasm which seems to be both a chemical factory and a chemical storehouse. The chromosomes, packed with DNA molecules, reside only in the nucleus.

But there is another nucleic acid. It is ribonucleic acid—RNA for short. It is a very close relative of deoxyribonucleic acid—or DNA. Its molecules are found both in the nucleus and the cytoplasm.

NOW, KEEP IN MIND that the DNA molecule is built like a spiraled staircase with many, many steps. If each two or three steps were a coded recipe for one particular protein molecule, there would be plenty of room along these many molecular staircases for the recipes of all the protein molecules needed for life — with room to spare.

This is the generally accepted scientific theory. The theory of how these recipes are carried out is this: RNA molecules are molded against the many segments of DNA molecules.

PD CHAMBER TO INSTALL '61 OFFICERS MONDAY

PALM DESERT — Chamber of Commerce officers for 1961 here will be installed at an 8 a.m. breakfast at Eldorado Country Club next Monday, with Chamber manager Don McNeilly serving as master of ceremonies.

The officers, to be selected from the recently-elected board of directors, will be announced at the installation meeting. New board members include Adrian Schwick, Carl Jensen, Jerry Malone, Richard Coffin, Ross Patten and Charles Potts. Board members will be nominated from the Hotel and Apartment Association, Retail Merchants Association and PD Real Estate Board, and confirmed by the elected board members.

McNeilly emphasized the reservations are required for the installation breakfast. The $2 breakfast reservations may be made through the Chamber office, Fire-side 6-4111.

Resigning Chamber president John Moos will meet with the incumbent board and new board members elect this week, to review the installation program.

Cost is the main problem in converting salt water into fresh, say University of California engineers.

"MILLIONAIRE'S SALAD," the Ernie Glaser concoction which has been a feature wherever the popular gourmet has been employed, put in its initial appearance at the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel this week and Michelle Ailor, looks like a million dollars, sampled it for Riviera headwaiter Paul Bendixen. Both Glaser and General Manager Ted Ratcliff are enthusiastic about reception given the new salad. (Desert Sun Photo)

THE LIVELY ARTS

America Doesn't Enjoy Life--Clarke

Despite an all-time high in concentrated adult toys, gadgets and conveniences on the American doorstep, today's psychiatrists are burdened more than ever with people in trouble — largely because they can't enjoy themselves.

With the "fine kettle of fish" in mind, lecturer John Robert Clarke will discuss ancient and modern methods of joy — sharing when he presents his final Adventures in Living lecture in the current series, "The Art of Enjoyment in a Space-Age," Thursday, 8 p.m. at the Biltmore Hotel.

"OUR KINGSIZE blunder in education," says Clarke, "is that we are teaching people how to make a living and then forgetting to teach them how to enjoy the living they've made."

The result, Clarke pointed out in advance of Thursday's talk, "is that human emptiness among our out-moded-before-you-pay-as-you-go gadgets has reached the point where 50 per cent of American hospital beds are filled with mental cases — and the percentage is increasing."

Emphasizing that these figures comprise no cause for alarm, Clarke added that, "We will probably reverse ourselves in another two or three decades and turn from television and tailfins to books, home discussion and — of all things — the keeping of journals."

CLARKE, WIDELY - traveled philosopher, yachtsman and author of "The Importance of Being Imperfect," David McKay release for February, has slated a new Palm Springs lecture series for February at the Biltmore, with such challenges for public puzzlement as "Montaigne and the Skeptical Eye," "Much Ado About Loving," "Ibsen — the Price of Illusion," "Van Gough — Artist on a Tightrope," "Are the Occultists Kidding Themselves?" and "Albert Camus — These Caves, This Wine and These Existentialists."

The new series, which augurs to grow in size and responses here, will parallel similar series also conducted by Clarke at San Diego's Balboa Park and in the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Tickets for the final evening of the current series are available at the Desert Book Shop, 150 East Tahquitz Drive or at the Biltmore Hotel.

Stanley Sayles, president of Palm Desert Players, and Clay Stearns, general director, told The Desert Sun the site will contain an amphitheatre and enclosed theatre with proscenium stage. Present office on site will be enlarged for temporary headquarters.

The Players, now 70 strong with an anticipated membership of 200, selected a site 165 feet wide by 600 feet deep in the southwest sector of this growing community. The site is west of the planned Highway 74 auxiliary road which will tie into Highway 111 west of the current junction.

AFTER SUN-SEI

A Salad Worth a Million!

By GEORGE LAINE

"You don't have to be a millionaire to live like one," said Ted Ratcliff, general manager at the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel this week.

Whereupon he pointed to a huge bowlful of salad, skillfully concocted by headwaiter Paul Bendixen under the watchful eye of Ernie Glaser, resident manager.

THE SALAD BOWL was brimful of a maze of goodies, most of them unusual for salads.

"It's the result of nearly 25 years of salad making," explained Glaser. "It has changed periodically over the years until now I am confident that this is the most tasteful salad ever assembled by man."

You have to know Ernie to realize that this is rightful pride, not braggadocio, speaking. And when Glaser is confident, its tantamount to being absolutely correct.

INTO THE BOWL were poured crab meat, turkey, ham, cheese, bacon, shrimp, hard-boiled eggs, beef and even caviar. (There was also lettuce although I didn't see too much of it.)

Last you hie yourself to the neighborhood grocer in a vain and misguided attempt to produce a Riviera "Millionaire's Salad" in the privacy and sanctity of your own kitchen, this word of warning might be applicable: the entire bowlful of taste-tempters is liberally doused with Riviera dressing, the likes of which you'll not be able to duplicate.

"Millionaire's salad?" The net result in taste is worth at least a million — and not by the gold standard, either.

METROPOLITAN OPERA auditions are scheduled for Jan. 21 in San Bernardino Valley College auditorium, which gives aspiring Village singers an opportunity to hit the big time.

Gwendolyn Roberts, district chairman for the Met, said today that anyone in Palm Springs interested in the auditions should contact her by writing 1898 Genevieve Street, San Bernardino.

There are several excellent voices in the town who would do well to contact Miss Roberts. Training and experience are desired qualities but, she emphasized, the thing the Met is really seeking is voice quality and ability potential.

REBA MASON

'Messiah' Will Be Presented Here Sunday

The Palm Springs Civic Chorus will present Handel's "Messiah" at 4 p.m., Sunday, in St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church, it was announced today by Harry Tomlinson, director of the chorus.

The traditional work will be presented to the general public without charge, Tomlinson said.

Soloists for the program will be Reba Mason, Mary Raphael, Lois Leek, Robert Webb and Joe Wood. Accompaniment for the chorale will be provided by Mrs. Christine Tomlinson at the St. Paul's organ. Tomlinson will direct the production of the musical event.

Actor Farms, Too

HOLLYWOOD — W — John Mills starred as Father in Walt Disney's $3 million production of "The Swiss Family Robinson," has added farming to his list of accomplishments.

Mills, one of England's highest paid stage and screen actors, also is proprietor of Sussex House Farm, a 400-acre dairy establishment straddling the border between Sussex and Kent. Part of the main house dates back to the 12th Century.

PD PLAYERS BREAK GROUND FOR THEATER

PALM DESERT — Ground-breaking for the new home of the Palm Desert Players was held here recently on a 2.5 acre lot overlooking the town and valley from the slopes of the San Jacinto foothills Friday, where the community actors plan to present colorful operettas.

Stanley Sayles, president of Palm Desert Players, and Clay Stearns, general director, told The Desert Sun the site will contain an amphitheatre and enclosed theatre with proscenium stage. Present office on site will be enlarged for temporary headquarters.

The Players, now 70 strong with an anticipated membership of 200, selected a site 165 feet wide by 600 feet deep in the southwest sector of this growing community. The site is west of the planned Highway 74 auxiliary road which will tie into Highway 111 west of the current junction.

EDDY HOWARD, above, has plenty of reason to smile. Not only is he America's No. 1 singing bandleader, but he and his 15-piece orchestra are packing them in nightly in the new Silver Palms Room of Ray Ryan's El Mirador Hotel. In addition to his music and vocals, Howard presents a nightly show.

Necessity for a 'Free Press'

There are still a lot of Americans who do not understand clearly what a "free press" means to them. Although explained in newspapers many times, it is worthy of repetition. The impression exists that it is a right given the press to say just about anything it wants to. That is putting the cart before the horse. The basic purpose back of this provision in the Constitution is giving the people the right to know. A free press is the very heart of individual liberty.

If there is no freedom for men to convey their thoughts, no liberty of any form is secure. Censorship of the press leaves the mediums of communication subject to the mercy of the few who further their own interests in a struggle for power.

The reason that the newspaper fraternity is constantly on guard against government censorship is not a selfish one. Newspaper editors know that freedom of the press is an essential component of democracy. They know that control of the press is the first step in the breakdown of popular government. As long as citizens have the right to know—information about their government is doing—they can be sure that their individual liberties are safe.

The right to criticize government and its leaders is often misunderstood to be the prime function of a free press—and the reason is so staunchly defended. A much more important function is the right to seek out and publish the facts about government. Any attempt to hide or withhold the facts—except information not compatible with the national interest—is the first move toward a government-controlled press. The right to get the facts is far more important than the right to criticize. Without the facts, an editor would not even have the information on which to base criticism.

Cuba's press is controlled completely by Castro; he took over the newspapers long before he moved on industry. Batista went at it a little more cautiously but still held tight censorship over newspapers. The trend toward government-controlled newspapers is visible in many Latin American countries which are undergoing stepped up governmental activity in fields of education, transportation, industry, labor, welfare and public health.

Herein lies the problem. As governmental activity reaches more and more into the lives of the citizens, increased attention is focused on the efficiency of the government officials as well as the honesty of the administration. Accordingly, the more that government touches people's lives, the more imperative it becomes that democratic institutions such as freedom of the press, exist and thrive in order that the public is well informed as to all the facts.

It is very important that every American understand the real meaning of a free press, not only in our own country, but to other peoples throughout the world who are seeking individual liberty.

Water Is Problem Everywhere

NEW YORK UPI—The next time you go to a spigot for a drink of water, or wallow in a bath, consider this: Half of the world's three billion inhabitants don't have enough water. Some 40 million Americans teeter on the edge of a serious water shortage.

Arizona is siphoning off twice as much water from the ground as it soaks in, according to water-buff Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. In one section of Arizona the water level has dropped 55 feet in six years. In the Texas oil town of Aspermont a barrel of sweet water hauled from a neighboring town sold for more than a barrel of oil during a recent water shortage.

WATER HAS SOLD for 50 cents a gallon in Dallas supermarkets. During an arid spell ten years ago, the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. had to deny service to air conditioning plants using water. Water has been rationed by city ordinance in Oklahoma City and many other places in the West, though nearby places were literally immersed in it. Ogden, Utah, underwent water rationing, but Salt Lake City, 40 miles away, had so much water it was able to keep its streets spotless with frequent flushings.

The Geological Survey comes up with some eyebrow-raising statistics: A farm home without running water uses an average of ten gallons per person daily. A home with running water consumes 50 gallons a day per person. The average American blows five gallons of fresh water each day washing his hands, face, brushing his teeth and shaving. A tub bath takes 25 gallons. A 10-minute shower uses 50 gallons. Each flush of a toilet requires four gallons.

IT TAKES 375 gallons of water to produce a pound of flour, from seed to pantry shelf. A cow needs 20 gallons of water a day; a chicken needs a pint. When you touch a switch to light a dark room, turn on your TV or start the coffee, you're using water. About 100 billion gallons of water are used daily to produce electric power in the U.S.

Eighty billion gallons are sucked into America's irrigation system, without which the country would now have to import food. A one-acre orange grove in a sunny California valley needs 800,000 gallons a day, the oasis-like golf course at Las Vegas's Desert Inn stays green under the bombardment of sometimes 1,500,000 gallons a day. West Texas is using 140 times more water daily than the Good Lord sees fit to return to it.

A FULL EDITION of a big newspaper or national magazine might have required, at the newsprint stage, perhaps 25 million gallons of water. Nearly half the cities of the U.S., faced with population rises as the urban shift gains momentum, face serious water problems.

Thirty million Americans now live in what Sen. Kerr calls the "Megalopolis" that stretches along the Atlantic from Boston to Norfolk. By 1980 there will be 30,000,000 Americans in that sprawling super-city, all presumably taking 25-gallon tub baths, 50-gallon showers, and attending to other water-using adventures in hygiene. A west coast megalopolis will reach from San Francisco to San Diego. Chicago, Milwaukee and South Bend will be one.

FUTURE DRAINS on our water supply border on the astronomical. More than one half million gallons of water go into the manufacture of just one ton of synthetic rubber. Every time we launch a large missile at Cape Canaveral or Vandenberg AFB we have to cool the pad with 500,000 gallons of water.

Man has made a water breakthrough which could be his salvation "and make the desert bloom." He has found a new way to tap the endless resources of the salty oceans and seas around us and turn that colossal harvest into potable water. The father of the breakthrough, Walter L. Badger, University of Michigan chemical engineer, died in 1958, a full two years before the Eisenhower Administration lent enthusiastic support to his patented system of de-salting such water. But his process, and others, now have a new lease on life.

IT IS BECOMING a huge business, this conversion of seawater into fresh. It will become enormously bigger, if we are to survive as a first class power. The big bugaboo has been the cost, but the Badger process brings conversion costs down to about one dollar per thousand gallons, which compares favorably with the average municipal costs. Those who have followed in Badger's footsteps believe this cost can be cut in half, by the erection of huge conversion plants.

We could not have an atomic submarine program without fresh-water making processes. When the Nautilus sailed under the polar ice-cap and the Triton circled the world submerged their reactors and crews needed hundreds of thousands of gallons of fresh water, made on board at a cost of perhaps $7.50 per thousand.

Makes a fellow forgive that chicken, guzzling its pint a day.

Letters to the Editor

Editor
The Desert Sun
With the safe return of the Freedom Rider's Cavalcade to their homes, I am thankful for the success of the Freedom Ride which took six horsemen on a, never before attempted, horseback ride from Los Angeles to Washington, D. C.

In a large way the Nation has been alerted to the need to appreciate our American Heritage of rugged individualism so finely expressed by the famous Pony Express of 100 years ago, and today's Pony Express which now also is history.

A large part of that success must be attributed to the fine way in which the newspapers supported the venture, both editorially and with news and picture coverage.

This helped in a tremendous way to dramatize the delivery of my letter to the President of the United States.

Along the entire route across the nation, we were treated courteously and with real respect by reporters, the photographers and news services.

May I express my personal thanks, along with that of the entire Crusade for God and Freedom staff, to your paper for its fine coverage of this program. Dr. Thomas Wyatt, Chairman of The Crusade for God and Freedom.

BESIDES, now we have air mail and air express. I'm not advocating this, mind you, but those who do have a last minute thought, can still get by anywhere in the U.S. on Dec. 23 or even Dec. 22.

But that old-fashioned streak in me forces me to add: Don't try it.

Getting back to that rigid schedule of the old days:

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

I've always heard
Tomorrow's the day
That everything
Should be on its way.

Of course, that stems back to the days of the meticulous people. The old-fashioned school which believed that everything had to be done according to established rules.

LIKE MONDAY for washing. Tuesday for ironing and you knew every morning what was to be for dinner, only they called it supper, that night. The same thing every Monday, Tuesday and the rest of the week.

I liked Wednesdays because that was the day for those rich, brown beans (I think mother used molasses) with the slices of pork. Out of a big brown crock.

ANYWAY, what brought this up, I can recall that when I was a Little Monster (boy! what a memory) December 15 was the day all of the Christmas greetings were in the mail, the parcels expressed, and everything set for the gala Yule season.

The rest of the time until they opened the folding doors into the parlor where the Christmas tree stood dripping tallow on the bed sheet protecting the carpet. I used to spend outside of the kitchen door. Because of the heavenly scents that drifted out.

NOW, I BELIEVE that change is inevitable. Especially in this December 15th tradition where it is good, too.

Because if everybody had their mailing and shopping done by December 15, it would be a blow to our economy.

If nobody waited until the last week all of those extra workers hired at the post office would be sitting around, twiddling their thumbs and the extra clerks in the stores, standing idly, catting about people.

PRETTY SOON those extras wouldn't be hired and then those extra wages wouldn't be flowing into business channels to eradicate the purchase of red ink and people with nothing to do for nine days until Christmas would be bored into doing things they shouldn't.

So I've decided that those who procrastinate and wait until the last minute are, in somewhat of a back-handed way, a boost for our economy and should not be subject to scorn and ridicule.

BESIDES, now we have air mail and air express. I'm not advocating this, mind you, but those who do have a last minute thought, can still get by anywhere in the U.S. on Dec. 23 or even Dec. 22.

But that old-fashioned streak in me forces me to add: Don't try it.

A Wing and a Prayer

STAN DELAPLANE:

The shops are bright with presents these sparkling days. Holly and mistletoe.
"Step back in the car, please. Second floor: Household articles, rugs, linoleum. Going up."
That is the electronic voice of the elevator.

ELEVATORS ARE taught to think these days. All by themselves. If they start to snap shut on you, their rubbery edges sense this. And the doors open again apologetically.
Not only taught to think. Taught to think politely.

WHAT TO BUY for Christmas. First, I must shop where they give you trading stamps. My teen-age child is saving for something. I am not sure what.
Last year it was a toaster. But I think now we are saving for a milk shrug.
"Be sure to get the stamps!"
"I ALWAYS ask for the stamps, my dear."
"Sometimes I forget."
OK. Sometimes I forget. But I have a lot on my mind these holidays.

ONE OF THE things I have on my mind is whether we will get a turtle or a parakeet. My 5-year-old boy wants turtles. But the last turtles we had—one was named Mickey Mouse after our favorite comic strip character; the other was Mrs. Wilson. He was named after our favorite baby sitter.

ANYWAY, THESE turtles were purchased. They lived in a turtle palace. That was the name of the plastic bowl I bought for a dollar and a half. It had a plastic ramp. And in this plastic ramp you screwed in a plastic palm tree.

Mickey Mouse and Mrs. Wilson lay under the palm tree, exactly like a pair of New York financiers lying around Miami Beach. It was an inspiring sight and showed how good life could be for a turtle.

ANYWAY, I WANTED to improve their lives—I am a soft-hearted, generous person.

The bottom of their bowl was filled with gravel. And I thought it might be hard on their turtle feet. Gravel is awfully hard on my bare feet.

So I bought 50 cents worth of sand. The kind you buy to put in the bottom of a bird cage. I built them a little sandy beach.

THE TURTLES climbed onto this beach. Then they climbed over the edge of the turtle palace. Then they fell on the floor and went under the stove.

Short of ripping the house apart, there was no way to get them out.

I suppose they are still there. And a good many bitter remarks have been passed about how it was all my fault.

THEREFORE, TURTLES are out. And anyway the turtle store does not give trading stamps. So we are against this.

A parakeet would make a good present.

Only I just read a story about parakeets and anting. I guess you do not know about anting. It seems it is the habit of these birds to pick up live ants and put them all over themselves!

THIS REMARKABLE habit was studied by A. H. Chisholm, an Australian.

He decided: "In my view, the general purpose of anting is the stimulating and soothing of the body. And I suggest that the general effect is similar to that gained by humanity from the use of external stimulants, soothing ointments, counter irritants, and perhaps also smoking."

IT TOOK MR. Chisholm 25 studios years to come to this conclusion. And it took me only 25 seconds after reading it to give up parakeets.

I do not want birds around the house who put ants on themselves. I would rather they smoked.

DEAR ABBY: What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?

I was married to a man for 21 years. I loved him and tried my best to be a good wife and mother. I was happy and thought he was, too.

Out of the blue he told me he was in love with another woman. He packed up and moved out. He left me six months pregnant with a 14-month-old baby and four other children. The woman he left me for is 12 years younger than I am. He met her at work. She knows our religion doesn't allow divorce and remarriage but she doesn't care. My husband is begging me for a divorce. My heart says no. My friends say yes. I'm all mixed up.

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: The answer to your first question. "What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman," is "Temporary insanity." (This sometimes passes for "love.") Don't make any decisions while you are in an emotional tumult. Your husband may find his way back to the world of reality soon. In the meantime, tell him "No divorce!"

DEAR ABBY: When a hostess has a party and some guests bring other people, and a card table has to be set up in addition to the big dining room table which seats 14, WHO should sit at the card table? My husband says the "extra guests" who were not invited by us. I say my husband should sit at the big table and I should sit at the little one.

NOISE AT OUR HOUSE
DEAR NOISE: In the case of TWO tables—the host should sit at one, and the hostess at the other.

DEAR ABBY: A boy wrote in telling you he thought it was a "sin" for his mother, who was 44, to have a baby. Well, I don't think it's a "sin," but I have news for you—I doubt if any woman in her right mind would go in for it, at age 44, on purpose.

I am 42 and have a new grandchild. My daughter went on a trip and I am caring for her baby. I've been up for three days and three nights and I can't see straight—but the baby is still going strong. Women past 40 should leave well enough alone, and let the younger ones increase the population. I have no sympathy for them, and neither will their husbands. They'll sleep through it all.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. K. Place a raw beefsteak over your eye and then place a two-inch strip of adhesive tape across your mouth.

Girls Can Really Hit That Ball

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
SEBRING, Fla. (U) — There's a road sign in Sebring which says "Lake Placid 15 miles" and the touring golf professionals — men and women — were certain today that it was the same site where the Winter Olympics once were held.

Twenty-one teams of the top men and women pros, playing in the Haig and Haig mixed Scotch foursome championship, were hoping that the prizes would include samples of same or at least one of those Alpine Saint Bernards complete with brandy cask.

Because sunny Florida wasn't to be outdone in the seasonal weather scene merely on account of the fact that somebody forgot to send snow.

A BITING WIND keened through the palmetto scrub and whistled through the orange groves. The temperature was said to be 41 but the wind knifed it down a half dozen points and the pros were garbed as if for the alps at Squaw Valley.

Pretty Mary Lou Bolt, wife of the thunderous Tommy, trailed her famous husband in a gallery you could have seated on the back of a motorcycle. She wore shorts and her knees were reddened by the razor edge of the wind.

"Wasn't that a terrible snowstorm they had up north?" she asked, her teeth chattering like castanets in the throes of a runaway flamenco.

BUT IT WASN'T a total loss as the mixed teams finished their journey over the bright green fairways angling through the orange groves. Because the men pros came out of the first 18 holes of this 3,000 36-hole event with a vast new respect for the ability of their female compatriots, and vice versa.

Marilyn Smith, out of French Lick, Ind., huddled in a wind-breaker and watched admiringly as young Johnny Pott flushed a drive down the middle of a fairway.

"I'd say the men outhit us about 30 to 40 yards off the tee," she estimated.

"Yes," Pott drawled gallantly, "but the girls are every bit as good as we are on the chipping and putting."

HANDSOME BOB GOALBY, the former Illinois athlete out of Belleville, Ill., must have thought so, too. He helped his partner, Fay Crocker, line up a putt and then concluded:

"But you play in the way you think best."

Fay did, and canned the putt. "I'm surprised," said Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., "How far the girls hit the ball. It's kind of a surprise when you're used to seeing lady club members dribble it off the tee. But we used Judy's drives most of the time so I'd get a shot at the green."

HAWKINS PLAYED with Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa, and they finished with a combined even par 72 — just two strokes behind the duo of Dow Finsterwald and Muriel MacKenzie and the lead-tying team of Ernie Vossler and Betsy Rawls.

In this tournament, the man and woman pro composing a team each drives off the tee. They then select one of the drives and from there on hit alternate shots on the one ball. If the woman's drive is used, the man hits the second shot, and vice versa.

Durocher Claims He's Being Blackballed by Baseball

LOS ANGELES — U) — Leo Durocher, who took on umpires, ballplayers and even a commissioner during a baseball career not in serenity, says he might be the victim of a blackball by the major league owners.

"The way I've been sizing things up," Durocher told the Los Angeles Examiner today, "they don't seem to want me in the sport."

Leo, who used to manage the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, said he was not offered the management of the new Los Angeles American League entry, although club officials talked to him.

"They knew I wanted to come back to baseball," Durocher said. "Horace Stoneham knew it a while back and so did the others. The Los Angeles team could have offered me any decent deal and I would have taken it."

The belief was widespread in Southern California that Leo had too big a price tag on his stormy services for the Angel owners, Gene Autry and Bob Reynolds.

He said he thinks he may have lost five recent jobs in all — with the Angeles, Cubs, Giants, Tigers and Athletics.

"I am not concerned so much with losing the Los Angeles job as I am with the general pattern," Durocher said. "Somebody has put in the knock for me and I don't seem to be wanted."

"... A guy like me makes a lot of enemies. Any opinionated guy does. When things were going good with me, I probably stepped on a lot of toes without even knowing it."

"These birds may be the ones now giving me the knock. I can take the knocks — but I can't take a blackball when I'm trying to find a job."

BOXING WRITERS LIST AWARDS

Patterson Named as Fighter of the Year

NEW YORK (U) — The Boxing Writers' Association today named heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson "Fighter of the Year" for a record-equalling second time, and veteran sports writer Ned Brown recipient of the meritorious — service trophy.

Three special awards gold watches were voted to Dan Florio, trainer of Patterson and ex-champion Jersey Joe Walcott; veteran promoter Hubert (Jack) Fugazy of Feature Sports, Inc., and chairman Melvin L. Krulwich of the New York State Athletic Commission.

All awards will be presented at the boxing writers' annual dinner in the Waldorf — Astoria Grand Ballroom, Jan. 17.

Patterson was voted the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque for Fighter of the Year because of his unprecedented recapture of the heavyweight crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson last June 20 on a fifth — round knockout. No one else had ever regained that title.

Floyd received the Neil award the first time in 1956 for winning the vacant crown on a fifth-round knockout over Archie Moore.

In the 22-year history of the Neil award, only one other boxer won it twice: Carmen Basilio, former welterweight middleweight champion, in 1955 and 1957.

Brown, former boxing writer on the old New York World, is now with the North American Newspaper alliance. He has been connected with boxing for a half-century as a writer for newspapers and magazines and as a publicity man.

LOS ALAMITOS — U) — Local 289 of the pari-mutuel clerks voted Tuesday night to authorize a strike which will hit one day after Santa Anita Park opens Dec. 26.

Union officials said the walkout will come Dec. 27 and that clerks were asking for a dollar day increase over a three-year span.

Cerv, Shantz Top Choice in Draft

AL Clubs Choosing Up Sides

BOSTON (U) — Bob Cerv and Bobby Shantz of the New York Yankees were sure bets to be picked today when the new Los Angeles and Washington clubs "choose up sides" in another step toward completing the American League's 10-team structure for 1961.

Selection of the players from a closely-guarded list of 120 candidates will start in the private, wall-to-wall carpeted office of American League President Joe Cronin.

BOTH CLUBS want Cerv and Shantz but the two veterans probably will be split up since the toss of a coin will decide which team has first choice and the selections will be made alternately after that.

The mutual desire for Cerv stems from the fact that his right handed long ball ability would prove an asset either in Wrigley Field, where Los Angeles will play its home games, or Griffith Stadium, home-site of the Washington club.

"One of our first needs is a good long ball hitter," said Manager Bill Rigney of Los Angeles, who will select players for the Angeles along with General Manager Fred Haney.

"WE HAVE A PARK that's reachable for quite a few of the hitters on the list. If we don't get the right handed hitter we want because Washington picks him first, then we'll go after a left handed long ball hitter."

That could be veteran outfielder Gene Woodling, who hit 283 in 140 games with Baltimore last season.

Ex — Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, who helped Haney go over the list of players in Glendale, is one of Shantz' biggest boosters. The sawed-off southpaw helped Stengel out of many jams the past few seasons, and Casey was quick to point out the fine 2.78 earned run average he compiled with the Yankees this year.

THE ONLY RUB is that Manager Mickey Vernon and General Manager Ed Doherty of Washington would like to snare both Cerv and Shantz too.

Officials of both clubs said they would go all-out to make possible inter-league deals immediately after they are through selecting their players. The deadline for inter-league deals has been extended to midnight, Dec. 16 instead of midnight, Dec. 15.

Each of the two new clubs will select 28 players at a cost of $75,000 apiece from a roster to which the eight other AL clubs have contributed players. No more than seven players may be taken from any one club. Following those selections, Los Angeles and Washington will be allowed to draft one minor league player owned by each of the eight other AL clubs. Prices for these players are scaled up to $25,000 each.

As it is, each of the new clubs will have to select 10 pitchers, two catchers, six infielders and four outfielders. After that they may choose player irrespective of position.

Indian, Papoose Grids Honored at Booster Banquet

Football players of the Palm Springs High School Varsity and Junior Varsity were feted last night at the annual banquet of the Boosters Club at the high school cafeteria with Dave Levy, assistant grid coach at the University of Southern California, speaker of the evening.

Dr. William Aikin, president of the Boosters presided before the packed house of local residents, there to honor the teams.

FOLLOWING the introduction of coaches Dick Bunting and George Hertzke of the Varsity and Cal Farley and Dick Hough of the unbeaten Jayvees and the players of both teams, Levy took over on the topic of what makes a football player.

Levy cited four chief items which make up a good grinder — desire, condition, fundamentals and concentration.

HE ALSO CITED loyalty to the coach, team and school, self discipline, pride in his team and humility, to take the wins and the losses in stride.

He emphasized the excellent training for future life in these points.

Scores of mothers and fathers of the gridgers were present to help honor the boys.

13th Junior Net Tournney Planned At Tennis Club

Vini Rurac, tennis pro at the Palm Springs Tennis Club, announced today that the 13th annual Junior Holiday Tennis tournament at the club will get under way Dec. 27 and continue through Dec. 29.

Play will be in three classes, 13 and under, boys and girls singles, 15 and under, boys and girls singles, and 18 and under, boys and girls singles.

Mrs. Pearl McManus of the Tennis Club has posted prizes for winner and runner — ups in each division.

Entries should be made at once with Vini Rurac, club pro.

DVL Teams Defeated In Practice Games

Two Desert Valley League teams — Coachella Valley's Arabs and Indio's Rajahs — swung into basketball action Tuesday night and both lost.

El Centro defeated the Arabs 42-27 at El Centro for the latter's second loss and San Jacinto defeated the Rajahs 52-39.

Rena Salkeld Wins

Rena Salkeld, with 37 points, won the weekly tournament of the Palm Springs Women's Golf Club at the Municipal course Tuesday, an odd-hole event.

Second was Jerry Lint with 39½ and Shirley Cooper was third with 41.

The club plans a Scotch mixed foursome next Sunday at the Palm Springs course and members were urged to notify the Pro Shop at the course of their entries and names of their partners.

Ida Keeney Quits National Position

Ida Keeney, 102 East Palm Canyon Drive, secretary of the United States National Seniors Open Golf association, since its start, has resigned her position, effective as of now.

"Too much to do and not enough time to do it," was her explanation.

She will continue as secretary of the Palm Springs Desert Seniors Golf association, she said.

Indian Cagers to Compete in Two Holiday Tournneys

Palm Springs High School Indians will swing into action in two basketball tournaments during the holidays, coach Jim Workman said today.

Next Monday, Dec. 19, they play Brawley High in the first round of the Banning Holiday B holiday tournament at Banning and a week from Monday, at Perris, they meet the strong San Jacinto squad in the first round of the Perris tournament. The Perris event, sponsored by the Lions Club of that city extends through the 30th.

Sixteen teams will compete at Perris, all six Desert Valley league teams — Coachella Valley, Indio, Yucaipa, Twentynine Palms, Banning, Palm Springs and four from the DeAnza league — Perris, San Jacinto, Beaumont and Elsinore, plus Riverside Poly, Ramona and Pacific of the Citrus Belt league, Victor Valley, Roscoe Tech and Notre Dame High of Riverside.

Palm Springs and San Jacinto are paired for 4:30 p.m. Dec. 28 in the opening round.

Marine Teams Here Tomorrow

Basketball fans are invited to take in a double — header tomorrow night at the High School gymnasium when Twentynine Palms Marine Base sends two teams here to meet two local teams, members of the City Basketball league.

The games make up for a visit of the Marines, slated last week but balked by bad weather.

Smoke Tree Stables quintet meets one Marine team at 7:15 and — Laurie's Steak Ranch, the other at 8:30.

New Student Happy About Big Sister at High School

Through an article in The Desert Sun, a recent Big Sisters program at Palm Springs High School has received recognition. Mrs. Dorothy Parks, Secondary School Nurse and sponsor of the Big Sisters movement on the campus, received a letter this week from a young girl in Watertown, South Dakota.

The letter reads in part: "... I am 16 years old and I am in the 11th grade. I am going to move to Palm Springs about the 18th of December. I am scared to death and didn't know what to do until I read about this Big Sister deal. I was wondering if you could have the girl who will be my big sister write to me so we can get to know each other. I would really appreciate it if you would do this right away. Thanks so much."

Big Sisters welcome new students to the campus of the Palm Springs High School, orient them to campus locations and customs, introduce them to their teachers and help them to feel at home in their new surroundings. The letter from the young lady from South Dakota emphasizes the significance of the press and for a young girl, who will soon be entering a new school in a new town, it meant good news.

Hostess Gives Pre-Christmas Dinner Party

Mrs. Gene Pfeiffer hosted a pre-Christmas dinner party Sunday night at the Impala Lodge. Decorations were in a holiday motif.

Guests included Judge and Mrs. Merrill Brown, Dr. and Mrs. J. Hayden Shamel, Attorney and Mrs. James Hollowell, Mrs. Ann Fenton, Michael Pfeiffer, Mrs. Fern Laurence and the hostess.

Palm Desert Club Plans Fun Party

Members of Palm Desert Woman's Club will gather at Shadow Mountain Club, Palm Desert, on Thursday, December 22, for their annual fun Christmas party. Festivities will get under way at 12:30.

Mrs. Max Thomas is general chairman of the event. A special number on the program will be the appearance of the children's choir from the Palm Desert Elementary School.

Assisting the chairman are the Mmes. Marc Essery, Ralph Dietz, Lloyd Robbins, Ralph Hale and Paul Stillman.

Plans for the Club's annual fashion show are moving ahead rapidly and a large attendance is expected for this event on January 19, at the Shadow Mountain Club. General chairman is Mrs. Chester Johnston, assisted by Mrs. Frances Anderson, Mrs. Wilbur Bear, Mrs. Olive Byerly, Ms. Margarite Co-hua, Mrs. Dick Coffin, Mrs. Stevens Chase, Mrs. Tom Cathcart, Mrs. A. N. Merryman, Jr., Mrs. D. B. O'Connor, Mrs. Walter Stearns and Mrs. P. W. Seals. Local fashion shops will show the latest in daily resort clothes for around the clock wear.

Guests of members are welcome at the Christmas Party, which is always a highlight for members. Reservations may be made by calling the Shadow Mountain Club.

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

Christmas is so close ... it's lending a glamor to everyday things ... like wrapping a utilitarian shoe box in golden paper and tying it with holly-red satin ribbon ... Each precious day comes gift-wrapped ... in desert sunshine ... so that we should be opening them with care ... and laying them aside regretfully ... It's Christmas ... and time to renew old friendships ... and strengthen family ties ... The very thought of it makes for light-heartedness and gaiety ... and the holiday parties are sparkling ... like the desert stars in the night sky ... like the lights on the Christmas tree ... It's a jolly time of year ... for parties and for merry making ...

Marchesa Lily Gerini ... who has been occupying the Bouscar house on North Cahuilla ... but is moving out to Tamarisk this week to be with her sister Mrs. Charles Clare ... loves parties ... and has been much entertained during her stay here...

With the Ross Urgharts and Carmen Pantegons Considine as her weekend houseguests ... she whipped up a party Saturday night ...

Santos catered the cocktail-buffet ... and Tony Rose of the Tennis Club dropped in to play her favorite songs ... with Larry Foy talking over the grand piano at eight ...

Gar Moore had sprayed a great white Christmas tree on the big livingroom window and imbedded tree ornaments in it ... Lighted from within ... it was a spectacular greeting for arriving guests ...

Among those at the party were ... the Bill Powells, John Kennas, Charlie Farrells, Edna Rothbart ... Dorothy and Harry Brown and their houseguest Jo Copeland ... John Morris, Florence Horn, Anna Kashfi, Norman Winston, Senator Warren Magnuson, Mary Dayton ... Richard Strauss, Bill Smith ... Jo has been here a week but left today ... flying to Honolulu tomorrow ...

PARTY CLOTHES EXCHANGE, a High School P-TA project, is getting a brisk play at the high school, where formals and white dinner jackets may be rented, exchanged or be secured by paying the cleaning bill. In a wide variety of colors and styles, dresses are being mended and fitted, and meet a real need for the girl who may need a formal only once or twice. Here Mrs. Herb Esbitt, seated on the floor, Mrs. Robert Backstrom and Mrs. Frank Hilton, right, fit a gown on a high school student, who is just posing for the picture. The P-TA asks for other donations of party clothes for this project.

Panhellenic Has Christmas Luncheon at Thunderbird

The chill in the air made for an authentic Christmas party spirit, when 64 members of Panhellenic braved sleet, rain and snow to attend their monthly luncheon meeting at Thunderbird Country Club last week. Coming down from San Francisco, Mrs. George Anderson, Club publicity chairman, drove through a snow storm in the Pass. Mrs. Ross Cunningham drove through sheets of rain, as she arrived from the opposite direction, ending a cross country trip from the East.

Christmas balls of green, lavender and blue, and glittered oleander pods, lined the beautiful desert holly which formed a continuous centerpiece along the U-shaped table arrangement in the dining room of the Thunderbird Country Club. Three large candles, covered with silver glitter and placed on blue metallic medallions, graced the main table. Smaller lighted barberry candles, in sparkling silver holders, glistered mid the holly and added a gay note. Tiny silver and white angels, holding a candle in one hand and the name of the member in the other, were at each place.

Mrs. C. E. Needham, assisted by Mrs. Daniel Wagner and Mrs. John T. Shea were responsible for the charming table decorations. Mrs. Ray Rodney Jones of Palm Desert and Mrs. Lloyd Rooke of Thermal supplied the Christmas holly.

Mrs. Ralph Dietz, local artist and interior decorator, furthered the Christmas feeling with her gay, philosophical and constructive comments and first-hand illustrations based on Beauty and Christmas time.

According to the Dietz philosophy, wit, wisdom and beauty make life worthwhile as well as more, exciting and, to her, beauty is the most important. She told of being invited to dinner on a houseboat while visiting in San Francisco. She said her conventional ideas on houseboat living were shattered when she entered a beautifully draped and decorated room equal to the most lavish apartment. Outside surroundings were elementary, perhaps, but inside beauty reigned. This should be one of our major aims in life, to think beautifully so that our bodies may be surrounded by a beautiful atmosphere, she advised.

Mrs. Dietz spent last summer studying painting in Mexico. There she found that even where poverty was uppermost, each individual seemed to know how to smile and could create with his own hands some small thing of beauty.

This led Mrs. Dietz into the subject of Christmas decorations and how to use the materials at hand. She stressed the principle of style being based on discipline and lack of clutter. She said, "Use big scale for big effect, not small decorations on large backgrounds. Look about for the unusual things to combine for unusual effects. Wreaths can be made with greens and different colorful vegetables - fruits - nuts." Mrs. Dietz used gold spray lavishly. Her motto is not the usual one of "All that glitters is not gold" but instead, "Everything gold should glitter."

She emphasized the unusual things that are natural to the desert. She mentioned gay additions to the Christmas table such as gold bows on the knives, a cranberry necklace for turkey, and halved gold sprayed pineapples to house the hors d'oeuvres.

Dorothy caused much hilarity with her story about the couple who found a piece of manzanita in the mountains and sprayed a sewer pipe elbow gold to use as a base.

The important thing, according to Mrs. Dietz is to become conscious of beauty and to make everything as beautiful as possible. Having shown "how" with the materials and illustrations she had brought with her, she ended with this bit of Emerson.

"Life is an ecstasy— Being alive is an almost Unbearable pleasure" and wished everyone a truly beautiful Christmas.

C.C. Woman's Club Holds Christmas Tea Program

Cathedral City Woman's Club held its annual Christmas Tea in the Town Hall, with club president Mrs. Otto Paulson and Mrs. J. R. Andrews presiding at the tea table.

An atmosphere of yuletide pervaded every corner of the hall, which was decorated with miniature decorated Christmas trees, branches of pyracantha and Christmas candles. Decorations were the work of Mrs. J. Allen Stone and Mrs. Mel Crowell.

A Christmas program of music was presented by members of the Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School String Quartet and choir, trained by Hugh Givens.

"Trepak" was played by the String Quartet. Vera Stafford, Carol Layson, and Phyllis Long played the violin, and Nan Stephens, the cello.

The Madrigal Singers sang a group of Christmas carols. "Hodie Natus" was presented first. "The First Noel" was sung with Lori Castleman as soloist, followed by "A Little Town of Bethlehem" with Martha Mason, soloist. The group then sang "Angels and Shepherds" and brought the program to a close with "Glory in Excelsis."

Mrs. Stone was program chairman.

Activities for the Cathedral City Community Christmas program were discussed. Christmas tree decorations are still needed to help trim the 30 foot tree to be erected in the downtown area. Members will make 350 pop corn balls to give to the Cathedral City Junior Woman's Club to help fill the Christmas stockings to be given at the Christmas party December 21st.

Mrs. Paulson appointed Mrs. Fanny Snyder music chairman, and Mrs. E. V. Chritchfield was appointed house chairman.

Guests included Mrs. Ralph Henderson and Mrs. Sue Richards. Mrs. Richards is a charter member of the Los Guillose Federated Woman's Club in Kenwood, California.

Mrs. Alldredge was tea chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Durr, Mrs. Crowell, and Mrs. Stone.

Los Compadres Planning Parties
Los Compadres will hold their pre-Christmas Party December 17, starting with cocktails at 7 p.m. The dinner will be potluck, with each guest bringing their favorite concoction, their own dishes and silver. Los Compadres also have plans in the offing for New Year's Eve.

Deb Ball on Friday Night

"Sleigh Ride to The Stars" will theme the Third Annual Palm Springs Deb Ball, which will be held at the Tennis Club on Friday evening.

All white decorations featuring a sleigh and Christmas tree, have been created by two of the Debs.

Shrine Club Yule Party on Tuesday

Bob Winslow, president of Palm Springs Shrine Club, announced today that the Annual Christmas Party, and final Ladies' Night of the year, will be held Tuesday, December 20 at Noble Julian Stiff's beautiful Chi Chi club, which will be reserved for the club's party exclusively on that evening.

Noble Stiff, who was recently elected second vice president for the coming year, has guaranteed a terrific show for the event, Winslow said.

President Winslow pointed out that this will be the last big party of the current year, and announced that all Shriners, whether members of the local club or not, are most welcome, and should make arrangements now to bring their ladies to this big holiday event. Winslow added that no tickets will be sold at the door, and that Shriners planning to attend should call him at FA 5-2121 to make reservations.

Marie Jambretz and Judy Cota. The ceiling will be done in white balloons and stars.

The all white will be a sparkling background for the white gowns of the Debs and the white jackets of their escorts.

Sponsored by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, the annual Ball honors the 30 Palm Springs Debs, who are accompanied by their escorts and their parents.

In the receiving line will be the Deb Patronesses, Mmes. Adolph Brenner, Edward Canby, C. C. Hutchens, William Otto, Joan McManus and Lester Selig, and the Debs' Honorary Advisor Hildy Crawford. Co-hostesses for the Ball are Mmes. McManus, Selig and Hutchens.

Highlight of the evening is the pinning ceremony, when each girl receives her Deb pin. Jimmy Cooper of the Chamber of Commerce will officiate at this ritual, which is to take place at 10 o'clock. It starts with the Father-Daughter Dance, to the music of Tony Rose and his Tennis Club Orchestra.

Following that, each Deb, comes forward on her father's arm, to be introduced and receive her pin. Punch and cookies will be served during the evening.

School officials, Dr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Twist, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Webster, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Blake Field have been invited to the Ball.

City officials will be headed by Mayor and Mrs. Frank Bogert, whose daughter Cindy is a second year Deb and Deb treasurer. City councilmen and their wives and other civic officials have also been invited. Other invited guests include Chamber of Commerce officials and their wives, Tennis Club owner Mrs. Austin McManus, and actors' agent Mitchell Hamilton.

Thaw frozen broilers in the refrigerator without unwrapping and cook them right after thawing. Don't re-freeze broilers that have completely thawed and warmed to a temperature of 40 degrees or higher.

Coin Club to Meet Saturday

The Date Empire Coin Club will hold a meeting Saturday, December 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Security First National Bank Club Room, Indio. This meeting will be of interest to coin collectors in the area.

Talking About Christmas

Right now it's just around that well-known proverbial corner. So, if you haven't finished your shopping, or you find yourself just getting started and need some real help in planning for the family or the special friend who has everything—Maybe we can help you—At least we would like to try with this delightful holiday inspiration.

The whole family will talk about and use a color extension telephone long after Christmas. A handsome wall telephone or hand set makes an ideal gift for a good friend too—

And, if you want them to find it under the tree, your gift will be gaily wrapped and ribboned for Holiday giving—Or, if you hurry, just a little, we'll try to have it installed for use on Christmas morning—and furnish you with a real pretty gift certificate which you can send along.

For that Busy Year Ahead—

A year of wonderful times, joyous occasions, plans and parties, and special dates—They will all be here in a Daily Social Calendar for 1961.

This too, we'll send to that special person for whom you select a telephone—

And when you find time, stop into our closest business office and pick one up for yourself—But hurry—because we have found our supply usually doesn't last very long.

California Water & Telephone Company

This year you can be really different—You don't have to go Gift Shopping. You can go Gift Giving — for the Merriest and Happiest Holiday Season ever

H. J. Arnett Renamed to Fourth Term

Thousand Palms
Property Owners
Hold Annual Meet

THOUSAND PALMS — Harold J. Arnett has been elected to his fourth consecutive term as president of the Thousand Palms Property Owners Association.

Under his administration the group has evolved from a small organization known as the Shaggy La Palms Property Owners Association to its current status as a leading civic force in the area.

OTHER OFFICERS named at the annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Tschumi were Ben Wollman, vice president; Minnie Migliore, named to a third term as secretary; Hazel Pries, also elected to a third term, as treasurer; Glyde Crosby, Carmen Duran and Gus Tschumi, directors.

The association appropriated funds to buy paint for fire plugs in the Thousand Palms area, with the volunteer fire department to donate the actual labor.

REPORTS WERE heard from Gus Tschumi, chairman of the membership committee; Hazel Pries, chairman of the welfare committee, and Wollman, chairman of the legal and public relations committee.

Next meeting is scheduled Jan. 13 at the Wollman home.

Man Fails in Bid To Give Warning To Miss Taylor

A 42-year-old Lorton, Va., man, who borrowed $500 on his insurance policy to come to Palm Springs, was questioned by local police yesterday after he attempted to get into the vacation home of Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor to "warn her that her life was in danger."

John Henry Mitchell, who gave his occupation as an engineer, told Palm Springs police that he had "made the trip specifically to Palm Springs to warn Mrs. Fisher that her life was in danger by a well organized organization."

After he tried to get an audience with Mrs. Fisher, the police warned him not to bother the couple, and although he was questioned at great length by detectives, he was not arrested.

Leaflet Planes From U.S., Claim

HAVANA — The government newspaper Revolution said today that several planes which criss-crossed Cuba Monday and dropped counter-revolutionary leaflets on seven major cities were flown from the United States.

The report in the newspaper was the first official admission that more than one aircraft participated in the raids. The incident touched off a government investigation as to why the Cuban air force failed to thwart the invaders.

A University of California scientist has developed a dust, deadly to insects only, that has proven extremely effective in controlling insect pests on zoo and pet animals.

Free Cancer Films Ready For Village

Palm Springs Groups and Clubs Urged to Inquire

A variety of interesting films about cancer is available on free loan from the Riverside County Branch of the American Cancer Society, it was announced today by Mrs. Mary Wallace, chairman of the Branch's Education Committee.

In addition to providing the films, the Society supplies projector and projectionist and arranges for a local physician to answer questions of the audience, she said.

THE FILMS available include light-hearted cartoons as well as documentary pictures about cancer research or the diagnosis and treatment of cancer, according to Mrs. Wallace.

The cartoons include "Inside Mago," "Sappy Homies," and "Man Alive!," each of which is less than 15 minutes long.

FILMS FOR women include "Breast Self-Examination" and "Time and Two Women," the former concerned with cancer of the breast and the latter with cancer of the uterus. For male audiences, the Society has "The Warning Shadow," a film about cancer of the lung.

Films of general interest include "Never Alone," which describes the work of the American Cancer Society; "Cancer . . . A Research Story," which describes a group of cancer research projects; "146,000 Could Live," which covers the Seven Danger Signals of Cancer; "Living Insurance," which stresses the importance of annual health checkups; and "The Other City," which makes the point that enough people to populate a city could be saved from cancer each year through early detection and treatment.

Program chairmen and others interested in arranging for free showing of any of the Society's films to any organized group are invited by Mrs. Wallace to call the American Cancer Society at Riverside at OV 3-6415, or to write to 4241 Market Street to arrange the details.

DENTAL CLINIC sponsored by the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society went into operation last Wednesday afternoon, one of the five afternoons each month when the clinic functions to care for children referred through the Palm Springs Unified School District. Only community exception in the district is Desert Hot Springs, which conducts its own community drive. Dr. Louis Schulman, right, volunteer dentist who joins with other dentists in the area to provide the free service, is assisted by volunteer aide Helen Dzo Dzo. Mrs. Bonnie Baldwin is chairman of the clinic committee. Palm Springs Kiwanis Club donated basic dental unit; Pathfinders gave new high-speed equipment. (Desert Sun Photo)

3-FACET SESSION DUE CAMERA CLUB

"We Present Ourselves" is the title of the program prepared for members of the Palm Springs Camera Club when they meet at 8 p.m., Friday, in the clubroom of the Security First National Bank, Ramon Road, according to Mrs. Chester Madison, chairman.

Accepting the old saying in camera clubs that "we know one another by our pictures," the program is arranged in three parts. "The Beginning," in which all new members introduce themselves and show some of their choice slides; "The Middle," which introduces all old members and their pictures, together with informal commentary and happy-to-have-you remarks aimed toward the newcomers; and "The End," in which D. W. Grant, APSA, Palm Springs, will show a collection of 50 new slides made during a fall color

WELWOOD MEMORIAL REPORT:

Deluge of Books Arrive at Library

By LILLIAN RISING

The many new books received at Welwood Murray Memorial Library during the month of November — over a hundred of them — offer an especially rich variety of subjects. No matter what your taste, you are bound to find something to your liking.

Are you a baseball fan? James Brosnan in "The Long Season" will take you right down on the field with the teams. Is golf your game? Cary Middlecoff will answer almost every problem from tee to green in his graphically illustrated "Master Guide to Golf." We also have for you Rex Lardner's "Out of the Bunker and Into the Trees." How about skin diving? Lloyd Bridges, as told to Bill Barada, gives an up-to-date approach to the technique as well as a recent history of skin diving.

PERHAPS THE space frontier intrigues you. For you the library has "Countdown for Decision" by John Medaris and "The Astronauts" by Marti Caidin. Those concerned with public affairs will find Goldwater's "The Conscience of a Conservative," Turner's "National Security in the Nuclear Age," Fenichel's "The United Nations: Design for Peace," Vogt's "People!" and two books on California government by Winston W. Crouch and his co-authors: "California Government and Politics," and "Your California Governments in Action."

We received on investing Bernhard's "Evaluation of Common Stocks," and on salesmanship a new book by Frank Bettger, "Benjamin Franklin's 'Secret of Success and What It Did for Me.'"

NOVEMBER'S ADDITIONS include a number of biographies: Chevalier, "With Love," Cowles, "The Case of Salvador Dali," Hugh Downs, "Yours Truly," David Hama, "AVA" (Gardner), St. John, "The Boss" (Nasser), Linkletter, "Confessions of a Happy Man," Leonard Woolf, "Sowing: An Autobiography of the Years 1880 to 1904," and The Duke of Windsor, "Windsor Revisited."

Teen-agers who enjoyed Pat Boone's "Twist Twelve and Twenty" will be glad to find his new book, "Between You, Me and the Gatepost." Girls of all ages will enjoy Sandra Gould's "Always Say Maybe: A Modern Girl's Guide to Almost Everything, But Mostly Men!"

EVERYONE WHO likes to laugh will enjoy Bennett Cerf's "Out On a Limerick," a gay little collection of limericks, some hilarious, some clever, some racy, and a few grisly. Those of you who remember the magazine "Vanity Fair" will be pleased to see "Vanity Fair," a delightful collection of articles from that magazine, edited by Amory.

Since your library received so many books this month, we can't mention them all in this article. We'll list just a few more: Langner, "The Play's the Thing," Huxley, "On Art and Artists," Copland, "Copland on Music," and Rodgers, "The Sound of Music."
